

JAMES AND MARY M. LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked at other mills and on farms, and from Joe Goodwin he learned how to butcher and helped him in his shop.

255

Some of his school teachers were Henry Chatwin, William Buys, and Mary Clyde Willis. One winter when he was at Sam Jones' sawmill working, they were making plans to come home for Christmas when Henry Neibur, a young man, decided to start before the rest were ready. When the group reached Heber they found that Henry had not reached home. They formed a party to look for him. The snow was deep and more came, but search as they would, even days after Christmas, he was never seen nor heard of again.

Jim went to Park City and worked at the Ontario mine, in the timber yard and at the pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were friends at school, and this friendship grew until they were married at the Logan Temple, December 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. She was the daughter of William and Mary Mair Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at Heber, on the corner where Lowe Ashton lives, Third East and First North Streets.

On their return a hot dinner and reception dance was given in their honor at Pride's Hall at Center. They went to Park City to make their home, as Jim was a blacksmith at the Daily West mine. Mamie had had good training at home in home-making and had also worked in other homes, mostly at the Abraham Hatch home, and was an efficient wife for Jim. She was an excellent seamstress, nurse, and did some lovely paintings, which her family prize highly.

The Park City branch of the LDS Church was organized, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having always been active, helped in Mutual, Sunday School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wherritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors, and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Breneman's Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely reception at their home, some two hundred attending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made burial clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out-of-doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery.

James Fisher. And Wife To Be Honored

HEBER CITY, Dec. 4.—Dec. 7 is the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher.

Open house will be held in their honor, Monday at their home on Fourth South and Third East Street. Friends and relatives are invited to call from 2 to 6 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are prominent residents of Heber City, where they have spent the greater part of their lives. However, they resided in Park City for 12 years.

Both are active Church workers. Mr. Fisher is a High Priest and Mrs. Fisher is a member of the Wasatch Stake Relief Society board. She spent many years nursing the sick.

Mr. Fisher was born Sept. 21, 1866, in Salt Lake, son of David and Martha McKay Fisher. When he was seven years of age the family moved here.

Mary M. Fisher was born here Oct. 21, 1869, and was the eldest child of William and Mary Mal Lindsay.

On Dec. 7, 1892, this couple was married in the Logan Temple.

Four children were born to the union, two having died in infancy. Living are Mary L. Hunter of Ogden and James Daryl Fisher of Panaca, Nev. They have 13 grand-children.

*we could add
Jim Forman
Black smith picture
here*

for Jim Fisher

See Rest Homes 71k

JAMES AND MARY

James Fisher
HOW BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

ther mills and on farms, and from Joe Edwin he learned how to butcher and ed him in his shop.

me of his school teachers were Henry win, William Buys, and Mary Clyde is. One winter when he was at Sam sawmill working, they were making to come home for Christmas when y Neibur, a young man, decided to before the rest were ready. When roup reached Heber they found that y had not reached home. They formed ty to look for him. The snow was and more came, but search as they even days after Christmas, he was seen nor heard of again.

went to Park City and worked at ntario mine, in the timber yard and pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were at school, and this friendship grew hey were married at the Logan Tem- ebruary 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. as the daughter of William and Mary Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at on the corner where Lowe Ashton Third East and First North Streets. heir return a hot dinner and recep- ance was given in their honor at Hall at Center. They went to Park o make their home, as Jim was a ith at the Daily West mine. Mamie d good training at home in home- and had also worked in other homes. at the Abraham Hatch home, and efficient wife for Jim. She was an seamstress, nurse, and did some erty paintings, which her family prize highly.

The Park City branch of the LDS Church was organized, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having al- ways been active, helped in Mutual, Sun- day School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wherritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors, and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Breneman's Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely recep- tion at their home, some two hundred at- tending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made burial clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out-of-doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniver- sary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery. 356

James Fisher. And Wife To Be Honored

HEBER CITY, Dec. 4.—Dec. 7 is the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher.

Open house will be held in their honor, Monday at their home on Fourth South and

Mr. Fisher is a prominent resident of Heber City, where they have spent the greater part of their lives. However, they resided in Park City for 12 years.

Both are active Church workers. Mr. Fisher is a High Priest and Mrs. Fisher is a member of the Wasatch Stake Relief Society board. She spent many years nursing the sick.

Mr. Fisher was born Sept. 21, 1866, in Salt Lake, son of David and Martha McKay Fisher. When he was seven years of age the family moved here.

Mary M. Fisher was born here Oct. 21, 1839, and was the eldest child of William and Mary Mai Lindsay.

On Dec. 7, 1892, this Mrs. Fisher couple was married in the Logan Temple.

Four children were born to the union, two having died in infancy. Living are Mary L. Hunter of Ogden and James Daryl Fisher of Panaca, Nev. They have 13 grand-children.

MR. AND MRS. JAMF'S FISHER HONORED ON GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

More than 200 relatives and friends called on Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher on their Golden Wedding anniversary Monday, December 7.

The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations and a beautiful wedding cake given to them by their grand-children formed the centerpiece of the table and candle sticks belonging to three generations were on either side of the cake.

Ruth Ann and Theone Hunter, granddaughters, served. Others who assisted were Mrs. Millie Murdock, Mrs. Martha Blackley, Mrs. Maggie Brown, Mrs. Mary Sander, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Mae Taylor, Mrs. Crissie Duke, Mrs. Maybell Peterson, Mrs. Elva McAfee, Mrs. Reta Bingley and Mrs. Florence Hicken.

30 children also called on Mr. and Mrs. Fisher by special request. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter and nine grandchildren of Ogden were present.

James Fisher. And Wife To Be Honored

HEBER CITY, Dec. 4.—Dec. 7 is the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher.

Open house will be held in their honor, Monday at their home on Fourth South and

Mr. Fisher is a prominent resident of Heber City, where they have spent the greater part of their lives. However, they resided in Park City for 12 years.

Both are active Church workers. Mr. Fisher is a High Priest and Mrs. Fisher is a member of the Wasatch Stake Relief Society board. She spent many years nursing the sick.

Mr. Fisher was born Sept. 21, 1866, in Salt Lake, son of David and Martha McKay Fisher. When he was seven years of age the family moved here.

Mary M. Fisher was born here Oct. 21, 1839, and was the eldest child of William and Mary Mai Lindsay.

On Dec. 7, 1892, this Mrs. Fisher couple was married in the Logan Temple.

Four children were born to the union, two having died in infancy. Living are Mary L. Hunter of Ogden and James Daryl Fisher of Panaca, Nev. They have 13 grand-children.

MR. AND MRS. JAMF'S FISHER HONORED ON GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

More than 200 relatives and friends called on Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher on their Golden Wedding anniversary Monday, December 7.

The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations and a beautiful wedding cake given to them by their grand-children formed the centerpiece of the table and candle sticks belonging to three generations were on either side of the cake.

Ruth Ann and Theone Hunter, granddaughters, served. Others who assisted were Mrs. Millie Murdock, Mrs. Martha Blackley, Mrs. Maggie Brown, Mrs. Mary Sander, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Mae Taylor, Mrs. Crissie Duke, Mrs. Maybell Peterson, Mrs. Elva McAfee, Mrs. Reta Bingley and Mrs. Florence Hicken.

30 children also called on Mr. and Mrs. Fisher by special request. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter and nine grandchildren of Ogden were present.

JAMES AND MARY M. LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked at other mills and on farms, and from Joe Goodwin he learned how to butcher and helped him in his shop.

355

Some of his school teachers were Henry Chatwin, William Buys, and Mary Clyde Willis. One winter when he was at Sam Jones' sawmill working, they were making plans to come home for Christmas when Henry Neibur, a young man, decided to start before the rest were ready. When the group reached Heber they found that Henry had not reached home. They formed a party to look for him. The snow was deep and more came, but search as they would, even days after Christmas, he was never seen nor heard of again.

Jim went to Park City and worked at the Ontario mine, in the timber yard and at the pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were friends at school, and this friendship grew until they were married at the Logan Temple, December 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. She was the daughter of William and Mary Mair Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at Heber, on the corner where Lowe Ashton lives, Third East and First North Streets.

On their return a hot dinner and reception dance was given in their honor at Pride's Hall at Center. They went to Park City to make their home, as Jim was a blacksmith at the Daily West mine. Mamie had had good training at home in home-making and had also worked in other homes, mostly at the Abraham Hatch home, and was an efficient wife for Jim. She was an excellent seamstress, nurse, and did some lovely paintings, which her family prize highly.

The Park City branch of the LDS Church was organized, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having always been active, helped in Mutual, Sunday School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wherritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors, and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Breneman's Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely reception at their home, some two hundred attending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made burial clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out-of-doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery.

JAMES AND MARY M. LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked at other mills and on farms, and from Joe Goodwin he learned how to butcher and helped him in his shop.

352

Some of his school teachers were Henry Chatwin, William Buys, and Mary Clark Willis. One winter when he was at Sam Jones' sawmill working, they were making plans to come home for Christmas. Henry called on a young man who was on duty at the mill and asked him to let them know when they could come. Henry had not reached home. They formed a party to look for him. The snow was deep and more came, but search as they would, even days after Christmas, he was never seen nor heard of again.

Jim went to Park City and worked at the Ontario mine, in the timber yard and at the pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were friends at school and his friendship grew until they were married at the Logan Temple, December 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. She was the daughter of William and Mary Ann Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at Heber, on the corner where Love Ashton lives, Third East and First North Streets.

On their return a hot dinner and reception dance was given in their honor at Pride's Hall at Center. They went to Park City to make their home, as Jim was a blacksmith at the Daily West mine. Mamie had had good training at home in home making and had also worked in other homes, mostly at the Abraham Hatch home, and was an efficient wife for Jim. She was an excellent seamstress, nurse, and did some housework, which her family prize highly.

They were members of the LDS Church and were organists, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having always been active, helped in Mutual, Sunday School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wheritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Bennevis' Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Canyon Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely reception at their home, some two hundred attending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made fairal clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out of doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery.

JAMES AND MARY M. LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked at other mills and on farms, and from Joe Goodwin he learned how to butcher and helped him in his shop.

355

Some of his school teachers were Henry Chatwin, William Buys, and Mary Clyde Willis. One winter when he was at Sam Jones' sawmill working, they were making plans to come home for Christmas when Henry Neibur, a young man, decided to start before the rest were ready. When the group reached Heber they found that Henry had not reached home. They formed a party to look for him. The snow was deep and more came, but search as they would, even days after Christmas, he was never seen nor heard of again.

Jim went to Park City and worked at the Ontario mine, in the timber yard and at the pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were friends at school, and this friendship grew until they were married at the Logan Temple, December 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. She was the daughter of William and Mary Mair Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at Heber, on the corner where Lowe Ashton lives, Third East and First North Streets.

On their return a hot dinner and reception dance was given in their honor at Pride's Hall at Center. They went to Park City to make their home, as Jim was a blacksmith at the Daily West mine. Mamie had had good training at home in home-making and had also worked in other homes, mostly at the Abraham Hatch home, and was an efficient wife for Jim. She was an excellent seamstress, nurse, and did some lovely paintings, which her family prize highly.

The Park City branch of the LDS Church was organized, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having always been active, helped in Mutual, Sunday School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wherritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors, and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Breneman's Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely reception at their home, some two hundred attending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made burial clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out-of-doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery.

JAMES AND MARY M.
LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked

JAMES AND MARY M. LINDSAY FISHER

James Fisher was born September 21, 1866, at Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Scotch emigrants. His father was killed at Devils Slide, on August 11, 1868. His widowed mother came to Heber with her family of two daughters and four sons to make her home.

James began working to help himself at an early age. He worked at Henry Clegg's shingle mill in Daniels Canyon, where he put shingles in neat bundles for sale. He worked at other mills and on farms, and from Joe Goodwin he learned how to butcher and helped him in his shop.

355

Some of his school teachers were Henry Chatwin, William Buys, and Mary Clyde Willis. One winter when he was at Sam Jones' sawmill working, they were making plans to come home for Christmas when Henry Neibur, a young man, decided to start before the rest were ready. When the group reached Heber they found that Henry had not reached home. They formed a party to look for him. The snow was deep and more came, but search as they would, even days after Christmas, he was never seen nor heard of again.

Jim went to Park City and worked at the Ontario mine, in the timber yard and at the pumps. He and Mamie Lindsay were friends at school, and this friendship grew until they were married at the Logan Temple, December 7, 1892, by M. W. Merrill. She was the daughter of William and Mary Mair Lindsay, born October 20, 1869, at Heber, on the corner where Lowe Ashton lives, Third East and First North Streets.

On their return a hot dinner and reception dance was given in their honor at Pride's Hall at Center. They went to Park City to make their home, as Jim was a blacksmith at the Daily West mine. Mamie had had good training at home in home-making and had also worked in other homes, mostly at the Abraham Hatch home, and was an efficient wife for Jim. She was an excellent seamstress, nurse, and did some lovely paintings, which her family prize highly.

The Park City branch of the LDS Church was organized, with Thomas Allen in charge. They sang in the choir. Mamie, having always been active, helped in Mutual, Sunday School, Relief Society, and Primary.

The Fishers built a home in Heber and later went there to live. He worked with sheep of his own and of others, also at the Park Utah mine. She went nursing with Dr. Wherritt and helped bring many babies into the world. She used her home as a hospital for patients of Dr. H. Ray Hatch for a time and did lots of sewing.

She was very lame with rheumatism and used a cane, but her good husband didn't let her down. He took over the household duties and was very efficient. She had been so active in the Church that he obtained a wheel chair and took her to her meetings and other places. She could make the cookies, but he did the baking and took them to the sick, neighbors, and friends. They were always thinking of others, and for this they were both honored, she receiving an orchid from Tom Breneman's Breakfast Club in Los Angeles.

She was an officer in the Central Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers, of Wasatch County, and captain of Camp No. 1 for two terms.

On December 7, 1942, they celebrated their golden wedding with a lovely reception at their home, some two hundred attending.

At the age of seventy she made herself a white sharkskin dress and a long coat to match. She sewed for her grandchildren and made burial clothes. She was always dressed in white.

Jim loved the out-of-doors, fishing and hunting, and in his seventy-fifth year bagged his deer on the hunt.

They were a devoted couple, loyal to their Church, family, and community. She died on her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary, December 7, 1948, at the home of her daughter in Ogden. He also died there on December 3, 1955. They are both buried in Heber Cemetery.

general board visited in the stake and organized Primary groups in all the wards except Midway which came a year later.

Even though the ward Primaries had been organized, it was not until 1883 that a stake organization was formed to coordinate the ward work. Selected as the first stake Primary president was Ann Murdoch. Her counselors included Hannah Nicol, Anna R. Duke and Mary Jones Duke, with Dora Nicol Murdock treasurer and Marion Todd Campbell and Hannah Harbour as secretaries. These sisters served together 12 years until Jane Capener Giles was sustained as president in 1895. Counselors to her included Mary Jones Duke and Jane Shelton. Secretaries were Hannah Harbour and Mary Jeffs Bond, with Lizzie Giles, treasurer and Margret (Maggie) Hicken as aide. While this group was serving the first issue of the Primary magazine, "The Children's Friend," was published in 1902.

The next organizational change was effected June 14, 1904, with Janett Murdoch McMullin as president. Her counselors were Josephine Murdock Broadbent and Mary M. (Mamie Lindsay) Fisher. Mary Jeffs Bond again was secretary with Margaret Crook (Callister) and Mary E. Carlile (McNaughton), acting as assistant secretary and treasurer. Prior to the time of this presidency the Primary had met as a group. Now there were different classes organized by age groups.

With the release of Janett McMullin on October 24, 1909, her counselor Josephine M. Broadbent was called as the next president. She chose as her counselors Mary M. Fisher and Emma G. Carlile. Later Elizabeth Wootton served as a counselor. Mary Carlile McNaughton and Mina Bond (Nilsson) were secretaries.

Chosen next as stake president was Nellie C. DeGraff who was sustained April 29, 1914. She served for 15 years and had as counselors Elizabeth Wootton, Jennie W. Broadbent, Isabell Baum, Minnie G. Hicken, Cora Danielson Miller and Vera S. Moulton. Secretaries were Mina Bond, Manila Carlile (Patterson), Annie J. Smith and Catherine H. Moulton. This presidency served during the period of World War I, and spent much time with leaders and children making supplies for hospitals and servicemen.

On September 8, 1929, Annie Jones Smith was selected as the sixth stake Primary president. During the twelve years she was president Vera S. Moulton served as first counselor for five years and Annie M. Rasband the remaining seven years. Thelma Wootton and Ruby Cummings were second counselors, each serving six years. Secretaries were Catherine H. Moulton and Orel Kuhni.

Chosen to serve as president on July 20, 1941, was Annie McMullin Rasband. She selected Ethel Lindsay Broadbent and Rachel Brown Smith as her counselors with Venice Hicken Watson as secretary. These sisters served together for six years, including the years of World War II. Because of gasoline rationing they had to discontinue most stake meet-the company and their years of service include Mary M. Lindsay Fisher, 1926-1929; Blanch Huffaker Thomas, 1930-1933; Ida Rasband Watkins, 1934-1937; Minnie Lindsay Crook, 1938-1941; Vivian E. Allen Giles, 1946-1947; Margaret Crook Callister, 1948-1949; Ethel Duke Johnson, 1950-1951; Hazel Lindsay Giles, 1952-1955; Ida Rasband Watkins, 1956-1957 and Gladys Giles Lawton, 1958-1962.

Heber's second camp, the Forget-Me-Not Camp, was organized December 12, 1924 at the home of Jane Hatch Turner. Chosen as captain was Josie Turner Daybell, with America Wall Jacobson as first vice captain and Christina Carlile Giles, chaplain. This camp comprised the area north of Center Street. Captains have been Josie Turner Daybell, Kate Alexander Turner, Emma Hatch Wherritt, Teenie Lindsay Duke, Annie Lee Coleman, Clara Howarth Epperson, Marvel L. Murdock, Leah Thacker Casper, LaPreal Hardman McKnight and Irene Blackley Simmons.

When the camp was divided in July, 1956, the Fireside Camp was created. The new camp comprised the area north of Center Street and west of Main. The new Forget-Me-Not Camp boundaries were north of Center and east of Main Streets.

First officers of the Fireside Camp included Annie Rasband, captain; Nellie Dayton, first vice captain; Mary Moulton, second vice captain; Florence Nelson, secretary and treasurer; Ethel Watson, chorister; Lizzie Buell, organist; Lula Hicken, registrar; Mable Turner, chaplain and Sarah Carlile, lesson leader.

Charter members of the camp other than the officers are Charlotta Giles, Lona Durant, Clara Epperson, Bernice Simpson, Emma Fortie, Agnes Cummings, Alice Seiter, Mary McMullin, Jennie Broadbent, Maurine Clegg, Golda Lee and Ora Sweat.

Present officers of the camp are Clara Epperson, captain; Florence Nelson, first vice captain; Orel Kuhni, second vice captain; Maurine Clegg, secretary; Nellie Dayton, Annie Rasband, Ethel Watson, Mable Turner, Lula Hicken, Bernice Simpson, Lizzie Buell and Mary Moulton filling other positions.

Midway's Hawthorn Camp, named for the abundant hawthorn bushes so prominent in the area, was organized by Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Beer at the home of Emily Springer Coleman. Eleven women met with the state officers to effect the organization, and elected Mrs. Coleman as the first captain. Other officers in the initial organization included Martha A. Smith Bronson and Ethel Davis Huffaker as lieutenants; Elizabeth Ross Huntington, secretary; Vivian C. Orrocks Coleman, assistant secretary; Cordelia Hancock Wilson, chaplain; Ella G. Alexander Ross, registrar; Anna Kay Street, chorister; Mary M. Huber Probst, historian and Eliza Bronson Bonner, treasurer.

Charter members, in addition to the officers, included Matilda Robey Springer, Elizabeth Soule Alexander, Martha Shelton Hamilton, Phoebe Alexander Bonner, Ada Alexander Bonner, Eliza Faucett Hair, Mollie

JAMES MADISON FISHER
Son of Joseph Fisher, who came to Utah
1850, and Evaline McLean. 249

JAMES MADISON FISHER
Son of Joseph Fisher, who came to Utah
1850, and Evaline McLean. 249

JAMES MADISON FISHER
Son of Joseph Fisher, who came to Utah
1850, and Evaline McLean. 249

No History in PPMU

FISHER, JOHN (son of Thomas F. Fisher and Jane Christon). Born Feb. 7, 1842, Woolwich, Eng. Came to Utah with father.

Married Josephine R. Lyon Aug. 16, 1864, Bountiful, Utah, James Stoker officiating (daughter of Winsor Lyon and Sylvia Sessions of Portland, Me., latter pioneers October, 1854, Perrigrine Sessions company). She was born Feb. 8, 1844. Their children: Ivan J. b. Aug. 31, 1865, d. aged 4; Irvin F. b. Aug. 31, 1865, m. Lydia Eliza Jones; Sylvia J. b. Oct. 6, 1867, d. aged 2; Minnie b. Oct. 4, 1869, d. infant; Perry C. b. Dec. 12, 1870, m. Della Harrison; Rosie L. b. Feb. 4, 1872, m. Edward Hanson; Erastus W. b. Feb. 18, 1874, m. S. Vina Major; Thomas L. b. Nov. 13, 1876, m. Josephine Eckman; Kirkwood b. Nov. 1878, d. aged 21; Horton b. April 25, 1880, m. Martha Stoker. Family home Bountiful, Utah.

Married Harriet Knighton April 11, 1878, Salt Lake Endowment House, Wilford Woodruff officiating (daughter of William Knighton and Elizabeth Marrott of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, Eng., who came to Utah November, 1869, James Needham company). She was born Jan. 1, 1860. Their children: George H. b. Jan. 27, 1879, m. Marie Hanson; John I. b. Feb. 2, 1881, m. Bertha Parker; Albert R. b. Sept. 1, 1882; Victor E. b. Sept. 12, 1885, d. infant; Frederick M. b. Jan. 31, 1887, m. Lucinda Tolman; Roy C. b. Sept. 15, 1890; William M. b. Aug. 11, 1892; Rulon Wells b. Sept. 10, 1898; Hattie E. b. Oct. 7, 1899; David M. b. Feb. 14, 1902; Minnie Jane b. June 5, 1904.

High priest; bishop's counselor. Probate judge; county commissioner; justice of peace; mayor; member legislature 1880-98. Pony expressman; expressman between Salt Lake City and Carson City, Nev. Merchant; farmer and stock-raiser. Died Oct. 23, 1905, Bountiful, Utah.

873

FISHER, JOHN (son of Thomas F. Fisher and Jane Christon). Born Feb. 7, 1842, Woolwich, Eng. Came to Utah with father.

Married Josephine R. Lyon Aug. 16, 1864, Bountiful, Utah, James Stoker officiating (daughter of Winsor Lyon and Sylvia Sessions of Portland, Me., latter pioneers October, 1854, Perrigrine Sessions company). She was born Feb. 8, 1844. Their children: Ivan J. b. Aug. 31, 1865, d. aged 4; Irvin F. b. Aug. 31, 1865, m. Lydia Eliza Jones; Sylvia J. b. Oct. 6, 1867, d. aged 2; Minnie b. Oct. 4, 1869, d. infant; Perry C. b. Dec. 12, 1870, m. Della Harrison; Rosie L. b. Feb. 4, 1872, m. Edward Hanson; Erastus W. b. Feb. 18, 1874, m. S. Vina Major; Thomas L. b. Nov. 13, 1876, m. Josephine Eckman; Kirkwood b. Nov. 1878, d. aged 21; Horton b. April 25, 1880, m. Martha Stoker. Family home Bountiful, Utah.

Married Harriet Knighton April 11, 1878, Salt Lake Endowment House, Wilford Woodruff officiating (daughter of William Knighton and Elizabeth Marrott of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, Eng., who came to Utah November, 1869, James Needham company). She was born Jan. 1, 1860. Their children: George H. b. Jan. 27, 1879, m. Marie Hanson; John I. b. Feb. 2, 1881, m. Bertha Parker; Albert R. b. Sept. 1, 1882; Victor E. b. Sept. 12, 1885, d. infant; Frederick M. b. Jan. 31, 1887, m. Lucinda Tolman; Roy C. b. Sept. 15, 1890; William M. b. Aug. 11, 1892; Rulon Wells b. Sept. 10, 1898; Hattie E. b. Oct. 7, 1899; David M. b. Feb. 14, 1902; Minnie Jane b. June 5, 1904.

High priest; bishop's counselor. Probate judge; county commissioner; justice of peace; mayor; member legislature 1880-98. Pony expressman; expressman between Salt Lake City and Carson City, Nev. Merchant; farmer and stock-raiser. Died Oct. 23, 1905, Bountiful, Utah.

873

FISHER, JOHN (son of Thomas F. Fisher and Jane Christon). Born Feb. 7, 1842, Woolwich, Eng. Came to Utah with father.

Married Josephine R. Lyon Aug. 16, 1864, Bountiful, Utah, James Stoker officiating (daughter of Winsor Lyon and Sylvia Sessions of Portland, Me., latter pioneers October, 1854, Perrigrine Sessions company). She was born Feb. 8, 1844. Their children: Ivan J. b. Aug. 31, 1865, d. aged 4; Irvin F. b. Aug. 31, 1865, m. Lydia Eliza Jones; Sylvia J. b. Oct. 6, 1867, d. aged 2; Minnie b. Oct. 4, 1869, d. infant; Perry C. b. Dec. 12, 1870, m. Della Harrison; Rosie L. b. Feb. 4, 1872, m. Edward Hanson; Erastus W. b. Feb. 18, 1874, m. S. Vina Major; Thomas L. b. Nov. 13, 1876, m. Josephine Eckman; Kirkwood b. Nov. 1878, d. aged 21; Horton b. April 25, 1880, m. Martha Stoker. Family home Bountiful, Utah.

Married Harriet Knighton April 11, 1878, Salt Lake Endowment House, Wilford Woodruff officiating (daughter of William Knighton and Elizabeth Marrott of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, Eng., who came to Utah November, 1869, James Needham company). She was born Jan. 1, 1860. Their children: George H. b. Jan. 27, 1879, m. Marie Hanson; John I. b. Feb. 2, 1881, m. Bertha Parker; Albert R. b. Sept. 1, 1882; Victor E. b. Sept. 12, 1885, d. infant; Frederick M. b. Jan. 31, 1887, m. Lucinda Tolman; Roy C. b. Sept. 15, 1890; William M. b. Aug. 11, 1892; Rulon Wells b. Sept. 10, 1898; Hattie E. b. Oct. 7, 1899; David M. b. Feb. 14, 1902; Minnie Jane b. June 5, 1904.

High priest; bishop's counselor. Probate judge; county commissioner; justice of peace; mayor; member legislature 1880-98. Pony expressman; expressman between Salt Lake City and Carson City, Nev. Merchant; farmer and stock-raiser. Died Oct. 23, 1905, Bountiful, Utah.

873

FISHER, JOHN (son of Thomas F. Fisher and Jane Christon). Born Feb. 7, 1842, Woolwich, Eng. Came to Utah with father.

Married Josephine R. Lyon Aug. 16, 1864, Bountiful, Utah, James Stoker officiating (daughter of Winsor Lyon and Sylvia Sessions of Portland, Me., latter pioneers October, 1854, Perrigrine Sessions company). She was born Feb. 8, 1844. Their children: Ivan J. b. Aug. 31, 1865, d. aged 4; Irvin F. b. Aug. 31, 1865, m. Lydia Eliza Jones; Sylvia J. b. Oct. 6, 1867, d. aged 2; Minnie b. Oct. 4, 1869, d. infant; Perry C. b. Dec. 12, 1870, m. Della Harrison; Rosie L. b. Feb. 4, 1872, m. Edward Hanson; Erastus W. b. Feb. 18, 1874, m. S. Vina Major; Thomas L. b. Nov. 13, 1876, m. Josephine Eckman; Kirkwood b. Nov. 1878, d. aged 21; Horton b. April 25, 1880, m. Martha Stoker. Family home Bountiful, Utah.

Married Harriet Knighton April 11, 1878, Salt Lake Endowment House, Wilford Woodruff officiating (daughter of William Knighton and Elizabeth Marrott of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, Eng., who came to Utah November, 1869, James Needham company). She was born Jan. 1, 1860. Their children: George H. b. Jan. 27, 1879, m. Marie Hanson; John I. b. Feb. 2, 1881, m. Bertha Parker; Albert R. b. Sept. 1, 1882; Victor E. b. Sept. 12, 1885, d. infant; Frederick M. b. Jan. 31, 1887, m. Lucinda Tolman; Roy C. b. Sept. 15, 1890; William M. b. Aug. 11, 1892; Rulon Wells b. Sept. 10, 1898; Hattie E. b. Oct. 7, 1899; David M. b. Feb. 14, 1902; Minnie Jane b. June 5, 1904.

High priest; bishop's counselor. Probate judge; county commissioner; justice of peace; mayor; member legislature 1880-98. Pony expressman; expressman between Salt Lake City and Carson City, Nev. Merchant; farmer and stock-raiser. Died Oct. 23, 1905, Bountiful, Utah.

873